SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1874.

Base Ball is all the rage at present and some of our boys are hard to beat at this popular game.

George Boliver wants to see all the Young Men and Jury Tickets by the 25th.

Do you intend to pay them all, George?

Capt T A Jeffords will please accept our thanks for the most charming bouquet we have seen for many a long day. Capt J has the best flower garden in Orangeburg, by all odds.

Postmaster Williams runs his office now a days just a public office ought to be run. He has the best place in Town for such an office and finds an able assistant in our young friend J. Sheldon Bull.

To get good Soda Water and fine Segars go to Dr. Dukes Store. Mr. Sherrod Reeves will take pleasure in accommodating you with a fine plantation or any other one of the choice brands of Cigars at the most reasonable prices.

Mr. Heyward's night school supplies a want which has long been keenly felt in this community. Two great requisites for successful teaching are possessed by Mr. Heyward in an unusual degree. He knows what the scholar wishes to learn—and he knows how to impart his knowledge. Our young men who have but a superficial education will do well to avail themselves of the opportunity for improvement now offered.

The Swamp Angels arrived at last. A Base Ball Club is organized in Orangeburg and is styled, The Swamp Angels of Orangeburg. The following angels were elected to govern the Club:

President.

J G Vose.

Vice-President.

T B Burn.

Secretary.

J BELTON O BERTS.

Treasurer.

W K Orons.

Directors.

1st R W Jones.

2d E Mentzel.

3d W P Brunson.

4th J W Gao.

Last Thursday Trial Justice Brown, acting as coroner, held an inquest upon the body of a young colored man who had been run over by the down train of the night before, the wheels passing over and breaking the bone of the right leg, a little above the ankle, causing a profuse hemorrhage from which the poor fellow died three or four hours after the injury. The deceased said he was from Camden, and that his name was Andrew Brisbane, but his antecedents are unknown. It is conjectured that he had fallen upon the track while endeavoring to obtain a free ride. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Dis Lezare and M Salley were in attendance shortly after the accident and rendered every aid in their power.

Dr. Frederick S. Farnor, one of the able and most generally esteemed of our citizens, died last Saturday after a long and painful illness. The burial services on the Monday following were more than usually solemn and impressive. The Rev. Mr. Campbell delivered an able and feeling address in the Methodist Church, after which a large body of Masons from the Orangeburg and St. Matthews Lodges formed in procession and bore the remains to the Episcopal Churchyard, where they were committed to their last resting place with all the imposing ceremonies of Masonry—Worshipful Master IZlar reading the sublime service in a manner which touched deeply the hearts of the assembled friends and brotherhood. The numerous relatives of the deceased bore our warmest sympathy in their great affliction.

Eminent Men of Science have discovered that electricity and magnetism are developed in the system from the iron in the blood. This accounts for the debility, low spirits, and lack of energy a person feels when this vital element becomes reduced. The Peruvian Syrup, a protoxide of iron, supplies the blood with its iron element, and is the only form in which it is possible for it to enter the circulation.

State News

A joint stock company is being formed to build a new hotel in Greenville.

Last week over 2 200 fowls were received in Greenville from Haywood county, N. C.

We have been informed that the last cold snap has not injured the fruit much.

Peace reigns again in York: The Marion Star is about to send postal cards to its subscribers. Nufsed

There are about thirty one candidate for the three positions of policemen in Wimsboro.

Mr. J. S. Douglas, of Fairfield, has planted two hundred acres in corn this year.

It is proposed to construct a cotton mill in Charleston, to run about 1,000 spindles. A million dollars will back the enterprise.

Hesekiah Powell, of Beaufort, fell of a timber wagon, which, running over him, crushed both thighs in a shocking manner.

THE RISE IN THE RIVERS.—The Congaree had risen very high on Friday and had flooded the low lands, but on Saturday it had commenced to fall.

Major Richard A. Springs died at his residences in York County, six miles from Rock Hill, on Monday morning last.

The South Carolina Railroad Company have made arrangements with connecting roads to send through freights to Macon, Milledgeville and all stations on the Macon and Augusta Road.

The Waterboro, News of the 9th instant, says: 'The past few weeks have been particularly favorable to the planters in our county. Crops are being generally put in the ground. Corn is coming up well and is now out of the danger of frosts. On the rice plantations the crops are equally forward; a number of the planters have several hundred acres already up. The first crop promises to be a large one, it having entirely escaped frost, which have been so destructive the last year.'

The heaviest and most destructive storm known for years, passed over the lower part of Abbeville County last Thursday. In the neighborhood of Burns Mine the storm was very severe, and a great deal of damage was done. Galett Gayley makes a graphic report of the track of the tornado. The wheat crop was badly damaged, and houses, fences and trees were demolished by the force of the wind. Searl's bridge, over Little River, was washed away. Joe Tomlin's house was blown down. Wm. Davis' house was burned and the forest for several miles was completely destroyed. The storm caused a great loss of property, and was the most fearful in this County for years.

The Wilmington Journal of Saturday says: 'The heavy rains in the interior on Wednesday night and Thursday morning have already swelled up to mighty proportions the muddy waters of the Cape Fear. At Fayetteville the river began to rise at three o'clock on Thursday afternoon, and fifteen hours afterwards, at six o'clock yesterday morning, it had risen 45 feet. At the last accounts it was still rising.'

The Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel of Saturday says: 'Recent heavy rains in the up country along the Savannah River caused that stream to rise rapidly during the past two days. Thursday it was just over the lower wharf, while yesterday it had submerged a considerable portion of the upper wharf, against which drift wood was gradually accumulating. At twelve o'clock the river measured thirty-four feet three inches at the bridge, and at four P. M. thirty five feet one inch. It was still rising, though slowly, at the last named hour.'

$2.50 Earned from seven o'clock in the evening till bed time! Large profits when the entire time is given. An opportunity for either sex. Thirty cents and stamp will secure valuable sample and outfit by return mail. Mr. THOMAS BAKER, Wichita Kansas.
